Talis Residential schemes

Our commitment to our customers is that we understand that a new home will be one of the biggest purchases you will ever make and that it is essential to us that we bring you along in the journey from project conception to completion. From the moment you step into a completed Talis Construction property you will notice the perfect balance in life function, award-winning design and the quality of the final product, as we are fully committed to the creation of your new home.

Doing things differently

Our experience ranges from minor works to projects in excess of £100 million across all sectors of the Built Environment. While we are fully committed to our accredited standards, we believe that our clients projects can only be delivered within the set time constraints by focusing on highly skilled programme management involving all project stakeholders. Talis Construction adopts a collaborative approach, working with and forming partnerships with clients with the focus remaining fixed on delivering successful results.

CONSIDERATE
CONSTRUCTORS
SCHEME

A long association with the Considerate Constructors Scheme has enabled us to develop and implement a more holistic approach to the positive impact of construction on society. The CCS auditing and award scheme has also helped us demonstrate this positive role to potential Clients & Stakeholders and to others in the industry.

A sustainable future

It is critical to be fully aware of the strain the environment is under. We are fully committed to sustainable construction with the view to preserving and enhancing our surroundings including minimising the impact of construction within our local communities.

We incorporate the latest renewable technologies and materials to include timber frame construction, high specification insulation for excellent thermal performance, ground source heat pumps, solar/wind power, stormwater retention systems and recycling initiatives that work towards making our projects carbon neutral.

1. Solar panel installation
2. Minimising heat loss with high specification insulation
3. Airtight construction techniques combined with post completion testing to further improve thermal performance.
4. Smart Home Technology

While working with the current Legislation/Guidance and our ISO: 14001 accreditation, Talis Construction is dedicated to pursuing green solutions in order to deliver our clients projects with minimal impact on the environment.

At TALIS construction we are certified by, and accredited to, organisations and industry bodies that help us work better.
